H.I.S. Americas Inc. ("H.I.S. Americas"), the U.S.-based subsidiary of H.I.S. Co., Ltd., has received the "Corporate Innovation Award 2026" at the "Silicon Valley May Summit 2026" hosted by Plug and Play, one of the world's largest innovation platforms. This marks the third time H.I.S. Americas has received the award, following previous recognitions in 2022 and 2023, tying the record for the most awards received in this category.

Plug and Play (HQ: Silicon Valley) is the leading innovation platform, connecting startups, corporations, venture capital firms, universities, and government agencies in 60+ locations across five continents. The Corporate Partner Innovation Award is presented to corporations that demonstrate a strong commitment to advancing innovation both internally and through active collaboration with Plug and Play and startups. The award recognizes organizations that continuously explore emerging technologies, foster a culture of innovation within their teams, and actively engage with the startup ecosystem through pilots, partnerships, and strategic initiatives. It also highlights companies that are willing to test new ideas, drive meaningful transformation within their industry, and contribute to the broader innovation ecosystem through collaboration and knowledge sharing.

H.I.S. Americas has been recognized for its dedication to forward-thinking innovation, driven by key strategic collaborations. Notable milestones include the launch of 'XploreRide'—an immersive, XR-powered bus tour in Hawaii that seamlessly blends physical scenery with digital experiences—and pioneering next-generation mobility initiatives with industry leaders like REGENT. This momentum is further supported by a key partnership with Canadian hotel distribution platform HotelTrader and the ongoing advancement of cutting-edge AI proof-of-concept (PoC) initiatives.

H.I.S. Americas will continue to redefine the future of travel, creating novel customer experiences and advancing next-generation tourism through the integration of cutting-edge technologies and synergistic startup partnerships.
